UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS
CAMP JOSEPH H. PENDLETON
OCEANSIDE, CALIFORNIA

Dearest Rose:

July 2nd 1944

Your letter had received here yesterday afternoon. Good to hear from you even ??. I really don't have anything to tell you like I always do. Because the thing are so different to me now days. That why. I don't even care to write to any body not even my own father.

I don't <sup>know</sup> when was the last time I wrote to them.

I hope they know where I am at this present time.

I think that I had mention to you that I was at sea for pretty ~~near~~ near two months. And finally come back ~~at~~ there at the camp, and still going to school.

I really don't have any idea how long this school will be.

Remember some time ago. I had told you I was going on another leave. But that had been change.

I am not going. I don't think I see you again, before I leave here for over sea, again. I think we are about due. The way the training have been going last three months.

I know it pretty hard to say this.

I really don't know what I mean to you. why don't you just forget me and find some one else that why you be happy and nothing to worry about it. It no use, for you, worrying yourself out.

Just for your own good and health. I am not saying this because I dislike you, no that not
it. It you, I sure hate to see you worrying. Even that you had promised me, you well wait until I return. But pretty hard to say.

you might never see me again.

The way this war had been going and the way the marine corp has been operating. I mean face London on the beach head. Which I hate to see again. But I think I have to face it. It does not matter I death.
or so what. I have not been out of this place for this week end.

because I don't have time for it.

Every thing are just fine around here nothing much of doing.

Yesterday three two of us to the woman marine Barrack. I held the inspection. We that were kind for drilling these woman, and after that we had inspection.

The inspection was bad for any kind of troops. The trooper will be pretty fair. We were down there all morning. So that that.

I think that be all for this time. Good-bye and so long.

God will care you.

Love
Price
